Wednesday, April 30, 2013 Last week was my favorite week yet! It was a busy week in the Williams household with a lots of travel and "Big" things that are looming before the big day. I spent the morning with my sweet, little girl, Ava on her first day of kindergarten. She was beyond excited for her first day of school! It was a fun, early morning. We had a great time learning about her classroom, going through all of her supplies and getting ready to go. We ate lunch with her teachers and ate her choice of "healthier" meal option. She also ate an ice cream cone :) After that first day of school, I went to Mom's Beach House and hung out with my family for the afternoon. We ordered the fried chicken on a stick and it was really good! We also had a mini feast from Joey's for dinner. It was a perfect day. I spent Saturday with my mom, mom-in-law and some of my sweet friends and family. We were up early to pick up my niece, Aubrey, from the airport. We went for a long drive up the coast to relax. While there, we got caught in a pretty crazy rain storm, so we ended up watching an old movie on the way home. It was a fun day. In the evening, I went to my best friend, Alanna's house. Alanna is a sweet, young woman who was recently engaged. She has such a sweet and down to earth personality. She is a lot of fun to be around and I absolutely love hanging out with her. Her husband, Brian, is a cool dude and we had a great time chatting, drinking wine and getting to know each other. I had a lot of fun catching up with my friend! Sunday was a busy day. My sweet husband woke up at the crack of dawn to spend time with me before going to church with some of his friends. That is his favorite day of the week. We spent the day at the beach, relaxing and getting to know each other better. We also got a foot massage, and I LOVED it! I am hoping to get one every weekend until the big day. It's great! We spent the evening with my parents. I had dinner at my parent's house that night and had a great time. They were hosting a graduation party for my sister, which was the reason we were there, but they also had 82157476af
